TROUBLE IN LINCOLN COUNTY.

The General Commanding dispatched a staff officer to the scene of the trouble, who has returned and confirms the repeople, and have burned a house and have main there for the present.

Bloodshed, rapine and murder seem to be the order of the day in this part of the State, if recent reports can be relied on. Let our civil authorities take this matter in hand at once, and put a speedy, and, if need be, summary end to all such deeds of yiolence. That such a gang of ruffians as that which is now infesting Lincoln should be allowed to ride, rough-shod, over their peaceably inclined neighbors, is unbearable; and if the State authorities do not portion out to these "cut-throats" a speedy punishment, we must not be surprised to find the peaceably inclined citizens, as a last resort, take the law into their own hands, and make short work in clearing their county of this gang.

A War tase. In the United District Court this mornng a case was tried and decided, which decision may prove interesting to many of our people who lost property in a similar manner during the war. The administrators of C. W. Haydon brought suit against one Captain Penn, who was, at the time, an officer in Col. Hallisy's Sixth Kentucky (Federal) regiment. Captain Penn, by order of General Boyle, took from C. W. Haydon, deceased, two horses for the use of the army, giving receipt for the same, but on which the deceased or his administrators failed to realize, hence the latter brought suit for damages. The court instructed the jury that, as the horses taken were turned over for the use of the army, and were seized by order of General

A contract was given out for army supplies, such as forage, &c., by Capt. D. H. McComas, at Lebanon, Ky., on Saturday. The specific articles were 12 tuns of hay and 7 tuns of straw per month, and 350 oushels eack of oats and corn per month. There were only two bidders, viz: Hugh B. Phillips, of Marion county, and George F. Clark, of Louisville. It was awarded to Mr. Phillips at $21 per tun for baled and $18 for loose hay; straw at $11; oats at 80 cents and corn at 78 cents.

Ended. The public examinations in the city schools were ended yesterday, and now both teachers and pupils are free for the summer vacation to enjoy this brief lib erty as best they may. This is their annual jubilee season, and, after a long and tedious labor in the pent-up school-room, they certainly have cause to appreciate lar vocation, as she has been heard of this one bright gleam of sunshine, coming as it does only once in each year.

J. Hop. Price and Alf. Kierolf present, and from what we could hear, delivered most excellent addresses. The crowd were very enthusiastic in their approval of the different views of the respective candidates. MARRIED—On the evening of the 23d inst. at 9 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church in this city, by Rev. S. R. Wilson, Captain D. F. C. Weller to Miss Mary Emma Fowler

Fire Engine Botler. To the Editor of the Evening Express: In reply to the somewhat vague com-nunication of Mr. Curry, I would most re spectfully say that I am a practical me hanic, if ten years' experience will give ter. He cut McCoole up in nine rounds any one practice, and I do know why the heaters were made in two pieces. I may be very dull, but I cannot see yet what is to prevent the sediment from going down he connecting pipes into the fire-box. If it will not, I would suggest that the in-ventor (?) apply his brilliant idea to steam-manded that the battle should be awarded boat boilers and reverse nature by putting to their man under the absurd pretense the mud and supply drums on top, there-thy keeping the sediment out of the boilers. tense was received all over the country Still, if the sediment (which appears to bother him) is all deposited in the upper section, why was there three blow-off cocks that Allen had his man whipped, and that wouldn't the crown-sheet be apt to get hot and come down? One, and I think, both of the two fire-boxes burned out in less McCoole. This was resorted to by the than two months from the time the heaters horde of rascals who had McCoole in were put in operation, was burned from hand. where the lower connecting pipe entersthe lower section up, not where the sediment would be supposed to settle, but where the water ought to be, but most emphatically was not. There must have been neglect on the part of the person in charge, or the thing didn't work right. I suppose so much sediment settled in the upper section much sediment settled in the sediment settled in as to close the connecting pipes. "Quien as to close the connecting Mr. Paul insabe." In regard to doing Mr. Paul injustice, I must say that I did, in supposing for an instant that he invented the first plan of heating water, which failed; for after mature deliberation, I think he has too much good sense to get up such athing and expect it to work, and I cheerfully give Mr. C. all the honor and glory of being the sole inventor. The inventor eems to be laboring under a mistake in regard to one thing. I did not say that his legs, took it into his head to lose his "he fizzled," but I did, and do still, say place also. He filled the duties of p that the first plan of heating water for steam fire engine boilers in this city, namely, by utilizing the waste heat from the iron stoves used in the engine houses,

The charge of falsehood I leave to the public: the assertions I made, and which the inventor (?) does not deny, except by the broad charge of "malicious false-hood," are as follows: I said the first plan was a failure, and if not, why were the neaters removed and the superior invention (?) of Mr. C. (which are always getting repaired) used? said invention bearsame comparison with the regular ed ones of the present day. The reason given to a "loyal"

SPORTING NEWS.

Allen Will Sue for His Money if It is Given to McCoole.

From the St. Louis Democrat, 23d. The report that the stakeolder in the last fight had given up the battle money to McCoole on Monday has awakened inordinate excitement among the fancy in court thought her a deserving lass and this city. McCoole's party still affirm it, gave her a check for board free for thirty and Allen's friends deny it. We met three four quid nuncs yesterday, who informed us that they saw the bank check drawn by the stakeholder on Sunday, and the ney delivered to McCoole on yesterday, but just as many other reliable sporting men assert that the stakes have not been ven up, and will not be without anothe Now bets go with the battle money and numbers of people in the city who ed in the reliability of the report. The referee's decision does not settle bets, by the stakeholder's does, therefore unsophis ticated reasoners would naturally consider the latter individual the more important sonage in a bruising match, whereas ere is but little wrangling over his selection, but much over that of the referee.

The tenor of his challenge looks Cin innatiward as the ground of the battle mayhap Kentucky. That region gave McCoole the biggest triumph of his fisticareer, and also his greatest discomfiture so that the arguments for and against

The last issue of Wilkes' Spirit thus comments on the McCoole and Allen bat-

The Spanish Minister has received minute particulars of this expedition the proper time. Robinson indorsed all through his spies, and has left no stone unturned to move the authorities to action. The expedition was to be under the command of Col. W. O. C. Ryan, the hief recruiting officer in this city, who, it will be remembered, was among those arrested on Wednesday last and placed under bond to keep the peace, and not violate the neutrality laws. ARREST OF COLONEL RYAN AND CAPTAIN

Last evening at half-past five o'clock, while Col. Ryan and Capt. James Peters were about leaving the Casino, on Houson, corner of Mulberry street, to enter carriage, they were tapped on the shoulders and politely placed under ar-rest. They submitted with as much grace s possible, and were driven to Ludlow-treet jail. The proceeding was immeiately communicated to the volunteers athered in the Casino, which is a Cuban ecrniting station, and created much exitement among them. So far, the work of the deputies had een expeditiously managed; but their next visit to the Casino was attended with more peril, the yolunteers having become greatly excited, and declaring their intenion to resist any further arrests. The informers having pointed out Capt. Felix Von Stanberg, Capt. Ackerman and Capt. ndorf as the persons whom the warrants called for, they were called aside by the officers and informed that their presence was needed elsewhere.

ARREST OF GEN, ALFARO AND OTHERS.

The Marshal's deputies then proceeded to the headquarters of the Cuban Junta, No. 71 Broadway, where they found Gen. Ignacio Alfaro, who bears the commission f Commander of the Northern Depart nent of the Provisional Army of Cuba. General Alfaro was much surprised at the isit, and slightly demurred at the request of the officers to go with them; but on being shown their warrant, bearing the great seal of the United States, he quietly

The volunteers immediately took alarm, and gathered around the deputies, prowas made more exciting by the conduct of a few of the soldiers, who were under the influence of liquor, and the confusion vas aided by the uncalled for interference a few policemen. The deputies tried o calm the agitated crowd, but were final-y called upon to present their revolvers intil they were able to release themselves from the pressure and take their prisoners to the carriages in waiting.

IN LUDLOW-STREET JAIL

The whole party are confined in Ludlowtreet jail. They will have a hearing thi morning and will probably be admitted to bail; although it is doubtful if Ryan, who was already under bonds, will fare as well as his comrades.

A NUMBER OF ARRESTS YET TO BE MADE The Marshals have a number of other arrants to serve, and were busy during the entire night in searching for the par ties named in them. It is probable that many have taken the alarm and left the city; while others are only temporarily hiding, to escape a night's lodging in jail and will offer themselves to the authori ties this morning, to be placed under the proper bonds.

A Leak in the Treasury.

From the New York Evening Post, Tuesday. Mr. Boutwell has won credit with the eople by his resolute effort to put an end humiliation; the assassin of to the transactions of speculators upon secret information of the plans of the Treasury Department. But yesterday, for the first time, a "leak" seems to have taken place. The markets for all speculative investments were dull and heavy, when prices rose rapidly, to the surprise of the mass of dealers. It was gradually whispered that Mr. Boutwell would modify his wriggling, snivelling and groveling, seethpolicy after the 1st of July, reducing his sales of gold from two millions a week to not more than half a million; and on this befoulment. For less than "thirty pieces not more than half a million; and on this rumor the markets for gold and stocks at oon became strong and buoyant, and remained so until the close of business.

This morning the confidence of the

hrough the Associated Press. Mr. Boutwell is not in Washington, but red before during his term of office it is not to be supposed that it could have happened had he managed the matter in We trust that he will discover and punish at once those who have vio-lated his confidence, and wickedly sold or coolishly given away his official secret.

In this last contingency many of the volunteers have solemnly sworn that they would put fire to the town at different points and at one and the same instant. That day is not far off, yea, it is nigh unto our doors, and a worse than St. Bartholomew's day will then be upon us. The American Government should see that a strong squadron is near at hand to protect its citizens in case of serious emergency.

Execution of Poe and Robinson at-Henderson, Texas.

On Friday, 11th inst., a vast multitude, estimated at six thousand, of all ages, sexes and colors, gathered at Henderson, o witness the execution of Willis H. Poe and H. B. Robinson, for the murder of Cols. Ward and Ely, some months ago.

The editor of the Henderson Times had in interview early in the morning with the doomed men. He says:

Poe was not well, but answered freely all questions. Robinson was perfectly calm. Both said they were prepared to meet their fate-that they were guilty, and ought to die. Poe said he had been led to the commission of the crime by others-that he was drunk when informed that Ward and Ely had money directions from the Secretary of State to and were going toward Mount execute them with dispatch. terprise to buy a large quantity of cotton; that he was told where to get a horse to pursue them. Bobinson said he know nothing of what said they had made a full confession; that confession was in the hands of Maj. ney, son-in-law to Col. Ward, and that it was true in every particular, and that it ount of the execution. After the prisoners were on the scaffold they were informed that they could have time to say anything they wished to. Robinson said nothing. Poe said he want-ed to talk a few words to his young friends; that he wished to say to them to avoid drink-never to drink at all-to take the advice of no one, about anything, that was not strictly right and honest; and to take nis fate as a warning on these subjects. After pausing a moment, he remarked that e hoped "no one would think anything the less of his dear relatives on account of repeating that he was not responsible at the time he committ et for which he was then to die. He then called for Mr. Brooks, son-in-law to

Ely, who was square, and ask asked eness, saying that he had been forgiven by his Maker, by Major Turney and most of the relatives of Col. Ward, and that he wanted his forgiveness. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Raines, another son-inlaw, stepped near to him and expressed their forgiveness. When asked if he had anything more to say, he answered in the negative, but asked for ten minutes to pray. This was given him, and during the time he appeared to be engaged in earnest prayer.

A dead silence prevailed for about a ninute, when the word was given and Poe and Robinson suspended in air. Robinson's neck was broken in the drop, and he died with scarcely a struggle. Poe's neck was not broken, and he lived for some minutes.

Thus ended the career of two young nen raised in our midst. It was a terri-ble ending, but not without its lessons. The great lesson of the day was to prove false the oft repeated declaration that white men cannot be punished for capital rimes in Texas, by the civil authorities. Here was an instance in which the mili-tary had nothing to do, except in the ca-

A Red Hot Biography of a Supreme Court Judge.

From the Lagrange (Ga.) Reporter, 18th. Again the designing, truckling demagogue has raised his hydra-head, and opened his foul mouth, and wagged his deceitful and treacherous tongue in solemn nockery, to fasten upon the people of Georgia, by judicial edict, the incubus of black dominion! False to his country, untrue to his Maker, servile to power, treacherous to right, he now befouls the chief chair of the Supreme Court of Georgia with his corrupt carcass, emitting from his perfidious heart, in snivelling and dis-sembling words, the decision of a base ypocrite, recreant to his country, his God, right and to his own race! A South Carolinian by birth, a Georgian by adoption, a secessionist for personal motives, a revolutionist to carry out his motives; a dissentionist in the war of Southern independence, the suppliant mendicant at the footstool of power, and a traitor to the people who had trusted and honored him, when they are overtaken by defeat and Inion, the assassin of Southern. independence, sassin of his people's honor and liberty, of the cause of justice and of judicial independence and integrity by his decision on Tuesday last-thus completing the work of suddenly strong purchasers appeared, and the corrupt politician, the corrupt execubefoulment. For less than "thirty pi of silver" he has sold the governmen his fathers, the cause of the South, honor of his people, the judiciary of the State and-refuses to hang himself! A conspirator against the Union, a conspirator against the Southern Confederacy, a conspirator against the honor of his per ple and a conspirator against justice and omes to New York from Massachusetts right, he deserves the unmeasured, un-o-day. > The people of Georgia well remember the declarations Joseph E. Brown made in his Marietta speech in favor of adopting the new State Constitution and repeated elsewhere, in anticipation of the very question he decided on Tuesday last in regard to the constitutional right of negro office-holding. It is well known that he took the position that the new constitution conferred no such right, and it was by his arguments that many voted for ratifica-tion; and, if we remember correctly, he said he would take the stump against the adoption of the constitution if it conferred such right. His duplicity in obtaining votes in that way, and his mendacity in exposing that duplicity upon the Supreme bench, is the occasion that forces us once more to hold up the moral depravity, the political venality and judicial treachery of this foul bird of evil omen that hovers with ominous persistence over the destinies of

The Negro Headquarters.

In the city of Washington there is a district called the island. It is formed by a canal in the rear of Pennsylvania avenue which connects with the Potomac river, This canal, once intended for commerce, has long since been abandoned to the purposes of a sewer. And such a sewer exasts in but few cities. The cloaca maxima of Rome never bore off more filth than makes its way through this canal. It is stream of corruption made sluggish by the putrefaction that comes through its prolluted channel. It is such a stream of polintion as none but negroes could make. This island, as it is called, is inhabited Tennessee," and adds: almost exclusively by negroes. It is the headquarters of the negro population of these creatures are here congregated. They have been brought there from all ports of the South, and generally consist of the very worst class of Southern ne groes. They were gathered up by the Federal armies as they advanced into the Southern States and deposited on the island as pets of victorious arms. They have been sustained by the government in played his cards in the affairs of Tennes this abode, and they live upon what they can steal and what the government gives

The island thus inhabited by negroes i the vilest place in Washington. It is the an fected district of the national capitol It is to Washington what the Five Points is to New York. All the great cities of the earth in all ages of the world have had their hot-beds of crime and squalor and misery, and the island is that characteristic of Washington. The men murder, rob and steal for a living, and the women prostitute themselves indiscriminately universally and constantly. No stranger dare go into the island at night, and even by day, a walk upon its infected soil is not safe without a guard.

Such is the headquarters of the negroes at the headquarters of the nation. And at the recent election in the Federal capiof the island are going to be as politicians. They intend that the voting of the negro clothes and victuals.

If things go on in Washington for the next few years as they have progressed in the past few; and the island fills still more full of its vile negro population the Federal capital may not be a safe abode even for the Radical Senators and Representatives who have superinduced things as they are. The negro, as a murderer, thief and robber cannot be much of a respecter of persons. His wants will turn him upon his friends when he can't get what he demands of his enemies. He is not going to work if he can live by stealing and murdering, and when the inhabitants of the island can no longer find Democrats to kill and rob, they will turn upon the Republicans. They will make their headquarters at Washington worthy of the white miscreats who have thus established them at the headquarters of the nation. The island now shows something of what negro equality and negro government is; but it don't show all nor half of the crime, misery and degradation to which the negro naturally and inevitably tends when left to himself However revolting the picture may be the nature of the negro, whether savage or civilized, is plainly developed in this island; and it would be wise for our states men, at our national headquarters, to study a little the working of things in the negro beadquarters there.

He solemnly asseverates his own innocence of any participation in the conspiracy to kill Lincoln, and as solemnly declares that Payne, Harold and Atzerot, while in prison, were united in declaring Mrs. Surratt innocent. But he says they implicated the wretch Weichmen, whose false testimony caused her execution; and further accused him of having furnished information to Confederate spies while he was a clerk in the War Department. FEVER AND AGUE.

THE CURE IS PERMANENT

A.T. STEWART & CO. The Chill Once Broken Will Not Return.

H. S. BUCKNER & CO., Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.

This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never fails, when properly taken, to cure the most and all malarious diseases. Unlike chill remedies generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine itself acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowease, not merely temporarily checking it. Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is the fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chill nedicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or Excellence, Economy, Simplicity. distension of the head, ringing, buzzing o roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c. and, when the dose is increased, "complete deafness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or immovable pupil, coma, and great prostra

Wintersmith's Tonic Sirup leaves the system in a perfectly healthy condition, with no bad effects in any way to be worn off.

Another great virtue claimed for this mediine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a lay or two to effectually break the chill, and, once broken, they will not return.

Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any chill remedy it omes in competition with.

LOUISVILLE.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1869.

Washington Correspondence N. Y. Herald.

Among the subjects discussed by the census committee at their recent session in this city was the apportionment of representatives, to be made on the basis of the census of 1870. The subject was incidentally brought up, but it proved one of the most interesting, not to say exciting, questions that was considered. Mr. Haldeman, of Pennsylvania, the only Democrat who was in the Census Committee.

Revived.

The President has determined upon the appointment of eight cadets, at large, to West Point Academy, which, with the two heretofore named completes the list of ten, constituting his quota. The Secretary of War is now preparing commissions for new appointees. The other appointments, one from each Congressional District, will also be announced in few days. The Cadets will not enter the academy until next summer.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Cuban affairs by Cuban affai Democrat who was in constant attendance upon the sessions of the committee, pointed out the fact that, in accordance with the provisions of the fourteenth amendnt to the Constitution, some important changes would take place in the repre-sentation of a number of the Northern States, especially if the fifteenth amendment should fail of ratification prior to the taking of the census. This was news to the prominent Radical members of committee. They stared at each other as if a new idea had suddenly dawned upon them. The second section of the fourteenth article of the amendment provides 'Representatives shall be appointed ng the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or members of the Legstature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall six years imprisonment at the Dry Tortness. years of age in such State." - #1 @

It is questionable whether the Radicals in Congress in passing thamendment, or the Legislatures in ratify e observed that it will have no effect itever upon the representation of the Southern States, because those who are lion are not counted out in the apportion-ment. In the Northern States, however, where the negroes are not allowed to vote, and in some of which there are property, educational and nativity tests, its effect will be sensibly felt. Heretofore the negroes in the Northern States, as well as all other classes disfranchised, from whatever cause, have been taken into the account in making the apportionment for representation in Congress. In establishing the basis Spangler opens his statement as follows. He under the census of 1870 they will be left out, says: erable extent. All the negroes in the Northern States would then be voters. The only persons disfranchised would be best informed among the Radical politi-cians regard the ratification of the fifber of States, prior to the taking of the ber of States, prior to the taking of the census in June, 1870, as extremely doubtful. So far the official records of the State Department show that but twelve out of the requisite twenty-eight States have ratified the amendment. About two of these, Missouri and Kansas, there is some informality other States are reported to have ratified the amendment; but there is dispute about it, and the State Department s no official information on the subject. New York, June 22. The Rev. Dr. Patrick Henry Greenleaf was found dead at midnight in the vestry of his church, corner of Prest and Smith streets. When stricken by death he was in the act of making some memoranda, as some note paper, a diary, a quill, pen and ink were on the desk beside him, and an examination of these revealed the fact that he had been transferring from the diary to the paper; the letter "u" in the word "house" being the last one written by his hand. The body was in a sitting posture, the head thrown back and the eyes wide open. It was apparent that the Doctor had been dead only a short time, as the body was not yet cold. He died of apoplexy.

GEN. MAGRUDER'S LECTURE.

Maximillian, Carlotta, and Mexico. A large audience was present at Weisiger Hall last evening to hear the lecture of Gen. Magruder "Maximillian, Carlotta, and Mexico." The eneral is a very pleasing and entertaining lecturer. Possessing a fine, portly appearance, a pleasant manner, together with an agreeable voice and distinct articulation, he at once interests his audience both in himself and his subject, and carries his hearers with him to the end of a well-told narrative.

He was introduced by Gen. Chilton, and commenced by paying a handsome compliment to Kentucky and its people, and remarked on the changes which had taken place since he last vis-ited the State. He stated that his lecture was, in the main, intended as an effort to repair many of the injuries done the name of the Emperor Maxi-milian by misrepresentations in this country. Ne Another meeting of Confederate bond olders was held here last evening. The object of the meeting was to protest there. He denied that Maximillan was the crea-

He soon thereafter introduced into his Empire the American systems of Public written to the Assistant Treasurer at New her interests in Mexico than Maximilian himself. Gev. He then hastily reviewed the decliue and fall of the empire; the withdrawal of the French troops and the dishonorable desertion of the Emperor by France, Carlotta's visit to France, cold receition by Napoleon, and subse-ment insanity. His description of the last days of Maximilian cisco, Judge Hoffman, of the U. S. Circuit and the Emplre was very interesting, and develeped many new facts and reminiscences. After the treason of one of the Emperor's most trusted generals and the evident downfall of the Empire, General Magruder, being consulted by the Emperor, advised him to leave the country and re-turn to Europe, which he consented to do, and entrusted Gen. M. with the preparations for his departure. The Emperor's setting out for Vera Cruz was delayed four days by the burning of a railroad bridge by guerrillas, during which time he was prevailed on by his cabinet and others of his supporters to forego his determination and stand by those who had adhered to him so faithfully. Then followed a narration of the infa-mous betrayal and death of the Prince. The lecture was listened to throughout with 5 80; 2 at 4 00a4 90.

The Horse Transactions at Woodburn There was a sale of thoroughbred and trotting stock yesterday, at A. J. Alexander's Woodburn farm. The sale occurred in a pasture within half a mile of Spring Station, and though no vehicles were provided for transporting the visitors from the depot to the farm, yet, the road being fair and the weather not oppressive, our reporter reached the grounds without discomfort. Most of the Northern, Middle and Western, and some of the Southern States were represented by buyers, but the number of purchasers from a distance was not so large as the number attending last year, and our own State was not so large as the number attending last year, and our own State was not so fully represented. It seems singular that so little effort should be made, by those most interested, to Farm Yesterday. fort should be made, by those most interested, to call public attention to these annual sales through The opening races at Narragansett the newspapers, A month's advertisement of guests by enabling them to rest their weary limbs, and at the same time giving them an op-

Another female yearling out of the Old King (Lexington) was knocked off at eight hundred and ten dollars to General Abe ord. A third female descendant of Lexingon went for six hundred and twenty dollars. A worthy and somewhat distinguished negro man, Jas. Allen, a former slave of Mr. Alexander, and well known as the owner of "Dublin," bought a yearling filly for five hundred dollars. Twenty-one trotters, of various ages, were auctioned off at four thousand six hundred dollars, being an average of a trifle over two hundred and sixteen dollars a head. Altogether, the sales were quite satisfactory, and everybody present seemed well-pleased with the day's work. Last year some ninety animals were sold at Mr. Alexander's sale for thirty-two thousand dollars. Next year, if he will call the attention of the horsemen throughout America to his sale, by a little judicious advertising, he will take in more money than he has ever received

At Gage's sale, near Chicago, on the 16th of this month, about eighty head of trotting colts, fillies, mares, stallions, and geldings realized the sum of fifty thousand dollars; and this happy result was due in a great measure to the fact that everybody knew of the affair and was on hand.

The Poor Widow.

A poor widow and four children were found in an old, dilapidated hut, in the suburbs of Springfield, Ohio, entirely destitute of the necessaries of life. Three of her children were sick, and herself worn out by over-exertion, was the mere wreck of what was once a beautiful and loving wife. Her husband fell at the battle of Chicamauga, and thus bereft of her companion, the world has dealt roughly and unmercifully with her. The very sight of her distressed little ones around her, was enough to awaken sympathy in a heart of stone. In the midst of her trials and ufferings, and in full view of her starving little darlings, a kind, generous and truly oil gentleman called to inform her that the Grand Army of the Republic had sprinkled flowers on the grave of her hus band. This pious and loil Radical at the same time, in contemplating the gaunt and distressed form of the dead soldier's wife, intimated that the rent on her hut was about due. He also informed the starving woman that he must hasten to town before the bank closed, as he had a lot of coupons cut from his bonds, on which he wished to draw a gold interest. Pleasing Incidents and Praiseworthy Results.

The final examinations for the present scholas tic year took place yesterday, according to the eventh, Eighth, and Tenth wards. Favored and not quotably changed. It was very generally remarked that the children have on no former occasion evinced more practical interest in their annual school examination. Another noteworthy cirumstance, and one which lent peculiar dignity and interest to the exercises, was the attendance of an unusual number of trustees and other prominent friends of education. In every instance the schools acquitted themselves with distinction, entertaining their visitors in a manner that surpassed all expectation. THE SEVENTH WARD. In order that the pupils of this school and and especially as they were denied this privilege in a great measure at the regular examination. is no new wheat offering, and millers from obvious causes, yesterday was set apart for and operators are not disposed to enter the market at fancy prices before the offerings are sufficient to warrant transac- test of the aptitude of the scholars, but it was pleasing and instructive in a marked degree to sales at 80c, sacks included, and all who heard and witnessed it. The exhibition was commenced in the chapel of the school at three o'clock P. M., opening with "The Merry May," a most appropriate song, rendered with much spirit and excellence of voice by all the classes present. Then came an introduction well written in verse and delivered with good effect by Annie Spotts. This was followed by "The Confession," a serio-comic piece, admira-bly declaimed by Frank Howe. "The Song of Saratoga," a very pleasing selection, was then given by Mamie Winston. A quartette, by Misser Balee, Stewart, Dowell and Thompson, was next sung, and with fine expression. "The Gossips," a comic dialogue, in character, by young ladies of the third grade, elicited roars of laughter Master Heyman gave "the Indian's Speech," in a peculiarly happy vein. Next came an instrumental sole, on the plane-force, by Julia Robinson, executed gracefully and brilliantly. Stuart pork at $33 50a33 75; lard at 20a21c; lard, executed gracefully and brilliantly. A representation of the third decided hit with their highly cultivated voices. The succeeding recitation, entitled "The Par-tridges' Ball," by Lizzie Johnson, was emphatically the gem of the whole programme, and in thus designating it, we feel in no danger of hhds at $6 70 for lugs to $14 50 for cutting giving offence in any quarter for all who listened o the little lady's sweet and perfectly modulated voice and the exquisite grace of her manner were utterly entranced, and with one overwhelmed her with applause. "The Charcoal Man," a very humorous production, was given in dashing and amusing style by Master Gardner. Next the whole school joined in singing "The Little Brook," and did it with a will and a meledy that delighted every heart. "City Sights." a divertingly-moral dialogue, was rendered with much eclat by Jennie Moxley and Delia Pool. A short and pointed speech by John Kellogg was well spoken and well received. They were followed by Masters Klingler and Rothchild, who told the "Dutchman's Grief" so touchingly that it convulsed everybody. "Dress-

"The Virtues and Graces," as represented by five of the third grade girls, was the bright particular feature of the dialogues. tic term was an occasion long to be remembered by all who enjoyed it. The examinations were resumed in the morning with the third grad boys and third grade girls, the former class numbering fifteen, with Mr. F. T. Saulsbury teaches, and the latter twenty, with Miss Eliza S. Dana Sacher. They were examined in reading and singing, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music by individual scholars. In the afternoon the first grade boys, seven in number, and the second grade boys, twelve in number (F. T. Saulsbury teacher), the first grade girls, numbering seventeen, and the second grade girls numbering nineteen (Misses Tillie Bell and Julia Robinson teachers), read selected pieces, and were exercised in grammar and mental arithmetic added to which was some choice singing by the school in general and by individual scholars During the exercises, Miss Mary Merrill, of the first grade, was recalled and read a piece selected by one of the visitors, for which she re ceived much applause. All the children did themselves and the school great credit. They were handsomely addressed by Col. J. B. Read and Prof. Chase, the latter gentleman speaking in flattering terms of the written examination of the girls of the first grade for admirsion to the High School. The day's feast of reason was happily ended with the song of "Au'd their friends might enjoy some of the intellectual Lang Syne," given with unwonted animation by treasures garnered up during the past Session, the entire school and audience. At the invitation of the Principal, Mr. W. A. Martin, the trustees and teachers remained and partook of an elegant repast which he had provided all unawares. And so has terminated the schooling days and mmenced the summertide vacation to which teacher and pupil always look forward with pleasurable anticipation, and which invariably fits them for a surer and a better discharge o their ensuing duties in the imparting and acquir ing of knowledge.

This preparation is a concentrated Fluid Extract of Honduras Sarsaparilla and Queen's Root or Stillingia, containing in solution a neutral salt of Iodine, with aromatics and sugar sufficient to render palatable. The well-known alterative properties of these articles is secured by carefully selecting the crude drugs, for, in the case of Sarsaparilla, it is a well-known fact that at least nine-tenths of the root on the market is entirely inert from bad handling or age. Fortunately it is easily known. By chewing a little of the root, if good, a prickly sensation is produced in the throat which remains for hours. If it
